CLARA SMITH AND A NIFTY VAUDEVILLE BILL AT B. W.

Week Beginning Monday, June 15

Clara Smith, the bundle of pep, Columbia record star, who is the feature attraction at the Booker Washington Theatre this week, maintains her reputation as a favorite here. Clara seems to enjoy singing to B. W. patrons and they reciprocate by applauding her generously. She is accompanied by a male pianist and presents the following song selections: "Prescription Blues," "Sold My Soul to the Devil," "I Never Miss the Sunshine," and "Keep Your Home Fire Burning." All numbers go over big.

Venable and Wright are the curtain raisers. Miss Venable is one of the most earnest and best entertainers on the stage. Her singing and dancing this week were applauded. Mr. Wright is a good buck dancer with quick action. They sandwich some comedy in their work and are singing "Rock-a-bye Baby Days," "At the End of the Road" and close with "Eliza" and a medley of dances including a sensational "Charleston" that calls for an encore.

Sledge and Sledge are black-face artists. This is a male and female quartet. They use quite a bit of humorous conversation, with songs and eccentric dances, including acrobatic stunts by the male members. They have a jazz finale with piano and drums, which is a big scream and delays the curtain.

Strong and Strong, another mixed team, open with soft shoe dancing, singing "Carolina Mammy." Their comedy, talk is original, and a big laugh producer. The woman sings, "You Don't Know My Mind," and the man extemporaneous songs in about personalities, selected from the audience. Both go over big. They close with "When Melona and the Ripe in Dixie" doing a lively dance.

WHITMAN SISTERS AND THEIR GANG COMING TO THE BOOKER WASHINGTON NEXT WEEK

The Whitman Sisters and "Their Gang" will be the attraction for one week at the Booker Washington Theatre beginning Monday. These versatile players are said to have the biggest and best company they have ever piloted. They are making a screaming hit wherever they appear. They have added a number of new players and their chorus is the real hot stuff. In the big company are Essie, Bert and Alice Whitman, Marshall Rodgers, Sam Jackson, Willie Adams, Little Albert, Baby Ernestine (another), Jimmie Rodgers, Mattie Dorsey and others. There is no question about the type of performance they give. It always includes the very latest in songs and dances put over with an act combination that is rare in such seasons.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

THE STAR
Marjorie Day and Clive Brooks are the leading stars in "Love's Bargain," which the picture theatre feature this Saturday. The life of an actress, in and out of the theatre, is an interesting phase of the story, while deep drama results from the manipulation of a clever unscrupulous woman to win the love of a man she has lost.

"The Truth About Women" will be the Sunday special. It deals with the complicated heart affairs of two women and two men, with one woman in particular, the bright, outstanding heroine. This woman, at first apparently happily married and the mother of a beautiful little girl, finds her domestic dream shattered when another woman attracts her husband. Hope Hampton, Lowell Sherman, Mary Thurman and David Powell are the leading stars.

"The Shadow Ranger" is an Art-Mix production, will be shown on Monday. Jack Perrin will be seen in "Ridin' West," a Western drama, and Douglas MacLean in "Introduce Me" on Wednesday.

Alice Joyce and Percy Marmont are the stars in "Daddy's Gone A-Hunting," the attraction next Thursday and Friday. It is a screen version of the famous play by Zoe Akiss. The story tells of an artist's search for freedom and happiness, and has been brought to the screen with a combination of the dramatic life of New York's cheap Harlem flats and the brilliant picturesque luxury of Fifth Avenue and Paris. Color is furnished by the brilliant lighting and dancing of the Polka Belles in Paris. In which hundreds of beautiful dancers appear.

THE JESTER

"One Year to Live" will be repeated, by request, at the Jester Theatre this Saturday.

The attraction for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be "The Dixie Handicap." This picture, a screen version of Gerald Beaumont's story of Southern romance and race tracks, is one of the most thrilling films seen in a long time. It tells how a young man, picked up on the verge of imprisonment by the law, is developed, brings the old judge back to the attention and position that were once his. The story is centered on the love of the youth for the judge's daughter. For excitement, there are a number of horse races, some being at county fairs. The cast includes Frank Keenan, Claire Windsor, Lloyd Hughes, John Sargent, Otis Harlan and many others.

Kathryn Williams and Tyrone Power will be seen in "The Great Gatsby" on Wednesday. It is the story of an unwed wife in the slums of New York City.

"Chu Chin Chow" will be presented on Thursday and Friday. This is a lavish Arabian night film.

It is a screamingly funny production, with a western, a rodeo, and half a dozen other attributes to prove its entertaining quality. Irene Rich will be seen in "A Lost Lady" on Tuesday.

Seven Thousand See Atlanta
Deacon Out Box St. Paul
Man In Fast Bout. Northerner Rallies Too Late

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., June 10.—
"Big Boy" Flowers, the fighter, out-boxed Jack Malone, the boxer, to beat him in their ten-round bout which featured the all star show here last Friday night.

Malone, badly outclassed as both fighter and boxer in the early part of the fight, showed a glimmer of his old self in the last round.

The bout, staged a green sun during rally in the closing rounds to make it one of the fastest and cleanest fight seen around Chicago in recent years. Malone did no business as a point gatherer, but in the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds, when he sailed into the sensational Georgia Negro as a fighter, he had the crowd of 7,000 on their feet roaring for a knockout.

Flowers had the St. Paul man missing badly in the early rounds

Malone's head and nose with that deadly backhanded right and before the second pump was over Jack was spouting crimson.

The first round was even, as both boys were cautious and stepped around the ring feeling each other out. Flowers got busy in the second round and from then on until the fourth round he was beating him about a break.

The seventh was Malone's by a shade, the eighth and

Malone missed more punches during these seven rounds than he ever has in any previous bout, chiefly be-

Right Worries Malone

Malone was puzzled and worried. When they got in close Flowers was high on his feet and he was left to the body. When Malone stepped out and tried to box at long range, the Negro boy kept pumping his right to the nose with telling effect.

Malone took everything that the Georgian threw at him however, and he held his own for the first six rounds. Then late in the seventh round he rushed Flowers to the ropes and planted one on the chin that sent him back to his stool. To follow up his advantage, and the golden opportunity vanished, as Flowers immediately walked into a corner and held on until his head cleared.

That wallop seemed to give Malone confidence and from that point on he was a different fighter. He was casting all of his famous boxing skill

THE MEANING OF LIFE

THE MEANING OF LIFE
By Thos. Atkins
The more you sense of what you are,
The less there is conceded;
Just like a hilltop seen afar.

Or shawdy myth just speeded,
Just like a ship upon the sea,
Beneath the fallows sinking;
Ere life upon itself doth creep,
And man on man is thinking.

You pause so often by the way,
Like waiting at the fountain;
To come at life as best you may,
Of yonder rocky mountain.

MAKES BUS. TRIP TO N. Y.

JAKE JACK, the tailor, 2224 Market street, left the city Tuesday in company with Jack, friends, on a business trip to New York City in a new Morris car. He will spend a month with his brother, who is making his home there. Jake is well known in the sixth Ward, where he lives, because of the many charitable things he does for the poor people together with his interest in elections from time to time. He is like some other white voters of the ward, who are in the majority, and are always ready to stick together, realizing that in such there is strength. He is a Jew, and says that if the Jews were as thick here as in any other ward, they would have the elected offices as long as they had the vote. Jake says he cannot understand how some Negroes can go around knocking other Negroes who are fighting for them. He says, however, "I say he has found the knock-out punch in boxing and can be putting for himself or anybody else."

Jake, who is a member of the regular sixth Ward club, of which Robert T. Scott is committee man, Mr. Scott and Mrs. Ellaght (Buebe), the committee women, were elected by the voters of the sixth Ward for two years, and he feels that he would support them until their time expires, and should they run again, we owe it to ourselves and elect them to two more years. He says to represent the ward in the committee. Jake says he will spend his time thus, and that he is well satisfied to get the trade of the colored race, and in return is ever ready to help them and women who are qualified to get into offices where they can be represented like other citizens of our great city.

Much credit is due The St. Louis Argus for the fight it makes for right, along with others who have courage to their own leadership. Jake says he is going to make a speech upon his return, at which time he says he will speak of the war against a salute that means as much. Jake will be missed, while away, but he needs the rest, he says. While out of the city, he will be pleased to have his friends stop in and see his wife and children.

A FRIEND.

ASKS LIFE TERM FOR MAN SENTENCED TO HANG

A fight has been begun by Paul A. Richard, attorney for Wagon Williams, 27, who is sentenced to hang July 17, to have his client's sentence commuted to life imprisonment. The attorney for the defense is seeking a rehearing in the Supreme court on the grounds that the court failed to rule on several points in a holding down its decision, and that the points which they did rule on were not of vital importance, and that they did not pass on errors which were important in regards to the Assistant Attorney General's remarks during the final argument.

Williams was jointly charged with George Baker, John Cartwright and Reuben Bobbit, with the murder of Harry Leonard, a saloon proprietor of 3200 Randolph, in an attempted holdup in 1922. Baker and Cartwright were sentenced to hang. Their case is in the Supreme Court pending appeal. Bobbit was given life imprisonment.

All the Professional Men are going with Dr. J. M. Evans of Lane-Walker Wednesday night to Dr. Max Miller's Anniversary.

Current Topics

By ERNEST RICE MCKINNEY, Freelon Service

There's quite a deal of commotion these days in the Negro schools, that there is commotion in schools everywhere and operated by whites but attended exclusively by Negroes. Mr. McKinnis had to leave Fish, and they have to get Mr. Dyer, who is from Howard, and Mr. Duke gives $25,000 to Kittrell, of course. Kittrell is a Negro school operated by Negroes.

Negroes want Mr. Dyer removed from the presidency of Howard University. He should be removed. He isn't the right type of man to have control and leadership of Negro youth. Any white man who will deliberately accept the presidency of a school that is in the hands of a school for Negroes, can't run with the Ku Klux Klan and the students' union, and he can't be at the head of the school. Some colored people claim that the solution to the problem lies in putting colored men at the head of our schools. This may be true; I don't pretend to know. But I do know that it will be many a day before this consummation will come to pass.

In the first place the schools, where all the trouble centers, are no more gro schools than are the schools in Mississippi attended by Negroes. Schools such as Howard and Fish and a few more are simply schools that grow up. They have also nothing to do with the management and control of these institutions. The whites put up the money for the maintenance of these schools, and of course, thereby hangs a tale.

A thinker lends money to a manufacturer and in time becomes the manufacturer's boss. Certain wealthy whites give money for Negro education, and in time they pay the bill. They call the tune, they put whom they will at the head and determine the policies just the same as any other owner.

All that efforts is not gold and every gift is not genuine philanthropy. Sometimes that which passes as philanthropy is in fact a pure and simple business investment. Sometimes it pays to do things for others—even though it costs one money—rather than let them do them for themselves.

He says, however, "I say he has found the knock-out punch in boxing and can be putting for himself or anybody else."

Jake, who is a member of the regular sixth Ward club, of which Robert T. Scott is committee man, Mr. Scott and Mrs. Ellaght (Buebe), the committee women, were elected by the voters of the sixth Ward for two years, and he feels that he would support them until their time expires, and should they run again, we owe it to ourselves and elect them to two more years. He says to represent the ward in the committee. Jake says he will spend his time thus, and that he is well satisfied to get the trade of the colored race, and in return is ever ready to help them and women who are qualified to get into offices where they can be represented like other citizens of our great city.

Much credit is due The St. Louis Argus for the fight it makes for right, along with others who have courage to their own leadership. Jake says he is going to make a speech upon his return, at which time he says he will speak of the war against a salute that means as much. Jake will be missed, while away, but he needs the rest, he says. While out of the city, he will be pleased to have his friends stop in and see his wife and children.

A FRIEND.

Race Leader Tells Citizens

before the Chamber of Commerce at the Atlantic City, N. J. yacht club, last Thursday night, on International Good Will. This body of water is the most popular vacation resort, the proprietors of the large hostilities that line the ocean front. Mr. Thomas told his audience the value of good will between seas, not only to the submerged coast, but to the dominant as well. He told them of the aspirations of the people, and of the vast services they may render to the world in the fields of endeavor. "The colored people in America," he said, "are people seeking justice and all that the firm means. They love their country to which they came even before you of the more-favored race. They know no other land, and they want to know our life and destiny here. They want to know the future of this common good. If, with half an opportunity we have been able to strip other races in taking on the best things in civilization, as we have done in these sixty years, how much more could we have given to our country if we had had all of the talents and opportunities willingly accorded every other group that goes to make up our population. The grant of $ to every man his due is the only solution of the American race problem, and the only hope for interracial peace. Good will between the two great races who are here to stay is the only sensible sentiment, not practical business sense, needed to develop the flow from business in mob-ridden communities. On the other hand, if property is destroyed. Neither can labor yield its maximum output unless there is an esprit de corps in the workers, a feeling of being paid by the dominant group."

Bryan and Tennessee are attacking the law of evolution,—as if they thought that natural laws yielded to attacks. Men may be jailed or tortured or burned; but no law of nature can be broken. One of the greatest that evolution was the forms of life,

the Fact is attested by more other the law of evolution does not say that man descended from apes; and that man and apes descended from the same original creatures; and that that original lived not so long ago, when we measure time in geological ages. This

It is so well attested that no really educated man can doubt it. Of course, this law of evolution has been in battle with all the ancient superstitions. In support of evolution the scientists have brought facts, libraries of facts, facts discovered by careful observation and a world packed full of such facts, and against evolution what does Bryan bring? Only religious nonsense and foul hot air. And against of accept, his political vagaries and that he is trying to make good in the South by adopting southern prejudices and exploiting the superstitions of the morant.

evolution cannot be overthrown by the wisdom of a state where they burn men, women, savagery and superstition go hand in hand. We expect next that we shall hear of Mississippi passing a statute repealing the law of gravitation.

If anything is wrong with the ideas concerning evolution, the best way to
